Change in the world From 1970 to today

Since 1970, the global economy has had a huge impact on the environment. These alarming statistics require a trend reversal that must be initiated, first and foremost, by businesses.

	Number of cars yearly produced	CO ₂ emissions	Concentrations of CO ₂	Average temperature increase (with respect to 1850)	Extension of polar icecaps	Concentration of micro-plastics in the ocean (<0.5 cm)
1970	25 million	11.4 billion tonnes	325 parts per million	+0.1 °C	10 million km ²	0.01 tonnes
2020	96 million	33 billion tonnes	408 parts per million	+1.3 °C	6 million km ²	0.59 tonnes
